Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claim 16 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. Claim 16 requires a damper housing having a flange, one side fixed to the hole edge of the through hole and a lid fixed to the other side, and further recites "said resin portion at the chassis member is forming a portion of the vibration preventing damper". The feature of a resin portion of the chassis forming a portion of the damper appears to conflict with the recited flange arrangement. Note figure 4a appears to be the only embodiment having a resin portion of the chassis forming a portion of the damper, however the flange structure is not arranged as claimed.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 6, 15, 23, 27-29, 31 and 33 are allowed.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 10/04/2006 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicant's arguments fail to address all the issues of the 112 1st rejection. Note that claim 16 requires "wherein the one side surface of the outward flange comes in contact with a hole edge of the through hole, the damper housing is fixed to said chassis member and a lid member made of a resin material for closing the opening side end portion of the damper housing is fixed to the other side surface of the outward flange, so that said resin portion at the chassis member is forming a portion of the vibration preventing damper". While figures 4b and 4c show a damper with one surface of the outward flange in contact with the hole edge and a lid fixed to the other side surface of the flange, the resin portions of figures 4b-c do not appear to form a portion of the vibration preventing damper. This feature appears to be specific to the embodiment of figure 4a, and further does not appear to be physically possible with the recited flange/lid orientation.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

Art Unit: 3683

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
